and twenty injured, and the inquest was held in the waiting-room of the local station yesterday. The accident occurred near Lazonby, fifteen miles south-east of Carlisle.

RESIGNATION OF SIR EDWARD CARSON FROM THE WAR CABINET

Wants His Judgment Free on Ireland.

"NO DIFFERENCES."

Premier on 'Wisdom of the Course You Have Taken.'

The following was announced last night:—

Sir E. Carson has tendered his resignation as member of the War Cabinet, and the Prime Minister has advised the King to accept it.

The following correspondence passed between Sir Edward Carson and the Prime Minister:—

"My dear Prime Minister,
"When I joined your Government I had no consideration in mind except the prosecution of the war, and I did not anticipate that the question of Irish government would be reopened during the war."

"Subsequently, when the Convention was proposed, I thought it right to use any influence I had in inducing my Ulster friends to take part in the effort to come to some settlement."

"But on account of the dual position I held as a member of the Government and as leader of the Ulster Party I felt it incumbent on me to stand aloof from the proceedings of the Convention."

"It is, however, apparent that whatever the result of the Convention may be its proceedings may lead to a situation demanding a decision by the Government on grave matters of policy in Ireland."

"MY FRIENDS IN ULSTER."

"After anxious consideration I feel certain that it will be of advantage to the War Cabinet to discuss this policy without my presence, having regard to the very prominent part which I have taken in the past in relation to the Home Rule controversy and to the pledges by which I am bound to my friends in Ulster."

"I also desire to be entirely unfettered myself in forming a judgment as to the new situation which may arise, taking account both of the supreme duty which rests on all of us assisting in the prosecution of the war and of my personal obligations as leader of the Ulster Unionist Party."

"I have therefore made up my mind to resign my position in the War Cabinet."

"In coming to this decision I have been influenced solely by the considerations which I have referred to above."

"I should like it to be clearly understood that since I joined the Government there has never been any matter of policy, either in connection with the conduct of the war or the principles and aims for which we are fighting, in relation to which I found myself in disagreement with you or my other colleagues in the War Cabinet."

"I very much regret this severance, but as I am convinced for the reasons I have given that it is for the national advantage at the present juncture, I have no hesitation in asking you to place my resignation in the hands of the King—Yours sincerely (signed) Edward Carson."

"THIS TERRIBLE TASK."

The Premier's letter said:—
"It is with the deepest and most unfeigned regret that I received your letter of resignation, because of the value I attach to the unvarying courage and sagacity which you have brought to the councils of the Government at this juncture."

"I recognise, however, your special difficulties, and although, as you know, I have fought hard and repeatedly against the conclusion you have come to, I have consented to admit that, under present circumstances, there is wisdom in the course you have taken."

"I realise you are doing it in no partisan spirit, for ever since the war began you have always placed the good of the country above all sectional prejudice or advantage."

"May I take this opportunity of thanking you for your great faith and unswerving loyalty during the year you have been associated together in this terrible task."

Sir Edward Carson was a member of the War Cabinet without portfolio. He was Solicitor-General from 1900 to 1906, Attorney-General in 1915.

In 1917 he became First Lord of the Admiralty, which post he left to become a member of the War Cabinet.

NOT RAID WARNINGS.

Public Notice Regarding Searchlight Practice at Unusual Hours.

Although searchlight practice usually takes place for half an hour immediately after dark, the Press Bureau issue an official notice that it is often necessary to exercise the light at other times.

The public should not assume that a raid is taking place because the lights are showing at an unusual hour.

It is desirable that the police warning should be relied upon, to give notice of approaching danger and that the people should not put themselves to unnecessary inconvenience by taking cover without sufficient cause.

MAN-POWER BILL.

Important Concession Made by Sir A. Geddes.

THE CABINET AND CAMBRAI.

Cambrail and man power were two of the questions before the House of Commons yesterday.

Sir Auckland Geddes told the House, when it went into Committee on the Military Service Bill, that there was at the present time a considerable number of men whose continuance in civil life was deemed not to be in the national interest, because of the nature of their occupation, and whose certificates of exemption had been cancelled.

Clause L was added to the Bill without amendment.

Mr. Herbert Samuel said the Bill conferred despotic powers, such as no legislature had ever placed in the hands of a single man before over the lives and fortunes of millions of his fellow subjects.

Mr. Lambert said he wanted an assurance that no men would be taken from agriculture without consultation with the Board of Agriculture.

Sir A. Geddes assured him that he never took any men without consultation with the Department concerned.

After further discussion Sir A. Geddes made an important concession, which was a reply to the whole preceding debate.

He would agree, he said, to insert a new subsection providing that any order made under that section should be subject to the approval of both Houses of Parliament.

The announcement of the concession was greeted with acclamation in the Chamber.

The Bill then passed through Committee. Cabinet and Cambrail.—The Cabinet, said Mr. Bonar Law, was personally responsible for the withholding of the Cambrail report.

General Smuts, he explained, went through the documents, and his report, which was approved by the War Cabinet, was not subject to revision by Lord Derby or any member of the Army Council.

THE BACHELOR GIRL.

How She "Carries On" in War Time on 35s. a Week.

"More than half the money I earn is spent on food," said a bachelor girl earning 35s. a week to The Daily Mirror yesterday.

"My purchases usually include 4lb. sausage meat, 3d., for rissoles, which do for several meals; a tin of sardines, 5d.; oats, 5d.; and fish. Sardines mashed with vinegar make excellent fish paste for sandwiches; cheese, with pepper, salt and vinegar, also make excellent sandwiches. A day's menu is:—

Breakfast of fishcake, sausage, porridge, or sardine sandwiches, 4d.; 2oz. bread or roll, 1d.; marmalade, 1d.; cup of coffee, 1d. 9s. 7d.
Dinner in restaurant, 3s. 6d. 9s. 7d.
Tea made in the office 9s. 4d.
Supper at home at night 9s. 4d.

Total 2s. 3d.

"The catering for the week costs about 14s.; rent of bed-sitting room, 5s. 6d.; contribution to grocery fund for clothes, 3s.; the balance, 13s., goes for fares, insurance and extras."

BATH ROAD A RIVER.

Maidenhead Streets Like Mill-streams—Postwomen in Waders.

Melting snow and heavy rainfall have caused many rivers to overflow their banks. In York-shire some have risen 14ft. At Eton collars are flooded and on Windsor racecourse there are lakes.

The lower part of Maidenhead is seriously flooded, and artists' dwellings, riverside villas and bungalows are flooded.

Water is escaping from the Thames at Cookham, has defied the huge flood prevention dam,

MOONLIGHT TABLE.

The moon is increasing in brightness nightly. It will be full on Sunday. The hours of the rising and setting of the moon during the next six days are:—

and, helped by a great volume escaping above Boulter's Lock, rushes out of Ray-street into the main London-Bath road like a mill-stream.

Punts are in use to convey the residents to and from their homes in the flooded area. Postmen and postwomen are provided with wading boots.

The baby rescued from the Midland train smash at Cleeve has been identified as Catherine Millar, and claimed by an aunt at Glasgow. The mother and her son Robert, aged seven, were killed. The bereaved husband is Lieutenant R. S. Millar, R.N.

M.P.'s MEATLESS DAY.

RATIONS ON FEBRUARY 25.

This will be a meatless day at the House of Commons, says The Daily Mirror parliamentary correspondent.

Arrangements have, however, been made for a plentiful supply of fish and eggs at lunch and dinner.

Meatless days were instituted some months ago at the House, but they were gradually ignored. To-day's meatless day is the first of a new series.

Give Me the Facts.—"You give me the facts," said Sir Arthur Yapp, at a meeting of munition workers yesterday, "and I will investigate."

This was the answer which the Director of Food Economy gave to a man who told him of a case where a munition worker (a married woman) had stood in a queue for two hours in order to get food, and on returning to work was told that she must "take the half-day off."

Meat is still very scarce. There was little change yesterday in the situation at Smithfield. Ramsgate butchers are optimists. Here are some of their current announcements:—

"Don't grumble. Wait till you meet the Kaiser."

"Our blatter paste and be thankful for small mercies."

London Rations on February 25.—The London and Home Counties rationing scheme has been passed and will come into operation on February 25.

The Director of Meat Supplies, Mr. Boys, addressing a representative meeting of butchers in Manchester yesterday, propounded a scheme for the grouping of butchers.

CHEAPER UNIFORMS.

Controlled Cloths That Will Reduce Officers' Tailoring Bills.

Controlled cloths for officers' uniforms, to be sold at fixed prices, have made their appearance. Simultaneously maximum prices have also been fixed for the completed garment—i.e., tunics, trousers and breeches—and will be fixed later. The Daily Mirror learns, for greatcoats from the controlled material.

It is anticipated that all tailors except the most expensive will henceforth be able to supply khaki clothing to officers at the following rates:—

Summer trousers... £5 15s Winter trousers... £3 00
Winter trousers... 6 15s Breeches... 4 40
Summer trousers... 2 10s

These prices are exclusive of the charges for regimental badges and badges of rank.

RACEHORSE UP STAIRS.

Trainer Stranded in London with Horses, Stables One in Loft.

H. Leader sent four horses from Newmarket on Sunday to run at Gatwick—Siller, Caxton, Per Annum and Potiphar.

They arrived at Liverpool-street at 8.30 p.m., and Leader found himself in a quandary, as he could not get them any further that night.

At ten o'clock he was walking about White-chapel trying to obtain stabling, and eventually secured accommodation for three in a livery yard. The question arose what was he to do with Potiphar?

"There," said Leader yesterday, "to my great surprise I found several other horses."

"I have seen some things in my life, but never have I seen a racehorse go up stairs."

ON WEDDING EVE.

Captain Croft's Tragic Accident at a London Hotel.

The tragic death of Captain Eric Croft, aged thirty-six, on the eve of his marriage to Miss Iris Jardine, daughter of Mr. E. Jardine, M.P., was investigated at Westminster yesterday, the jury finding that death was accidental.

Mr. Allen Charles Goodall, of Solihull, Warwickshire said that Captain Croft was his nephew.

He had been in France two years, had won the M.V., and was badly wounded and gassed. He had attacks of faintness due to the gassing.

Charles Cecil Rowland said that after dining with Captain Croft and another friend at the Piccadilly Grill last Thursday night, they left at half-past ten.

"Mr. Carroll (the friend) was talking," witness continued. "Just as we turned round the last flight of stairs at the top I heard a tremendous crash. Carroll said: 'Croft has gone over the side.'"

Escaped Prisoners Recaptured.—Two German prisoners who escaped with two others from an internment camp have been arrested at Arnhem.

VERONAL DEATH OF SIR B. DUFF.

General Who Was Victim of Sleeplessness.

VALET'S TRAGIC FIND.

"Death from narcotic poisoning, self administered, for the purpose of procuring sleep."

Such was the verdict—in other words, "Death from misadventure"—returned by a coroner's jury yesterday on General Sir Beauchamp Duff, aged sixty-two, formerly Commander-in-Chief in India, who was found dead in bed at the Caledonian Club, St. James's-square.

Douglas Garden Duff, Cheyne-walk, Chelsea, a son, said his father was referred to very adversely in the Mesopotamia Commission's report, that he was much affected by it, and that he came home in 1916.

He had been suffering of his command—Yes. Was he subject to an inquiry which was about to be held by the Army Council?—Yes, I do not know whether inquiry is quite the right word, but the position was that the Army Council referred to the report of the Mesopotamia Commission, and asked the people who were censured in that report to put in a defence of the indictment formulated in that report, and he was in process of formulating his defence at the moment of his death.

Did he ever say anything about suicide?—Yes; but he said to me that whatever happened he would never take his life.

William Henry Witherden, deceased's valet, said that on going to the general's room on Sunday morning he found the electric light burning on the pedestal by the bed.

Police-Sergeant Lefevre said that two small bottles in deceased's bedroom contained tablets of bromide of potassium and veronal.

Police-Sergeant Overton, coroner's officer, said the chemist who sold the bottles told him that deceased had been a customer for many years. The medical evidence was to the effect that death was due to an overdose of veronal.

M.P.'S WIFE'S TRAGIC FATE

Mrs. Henry Guest Found Dead with Bullet Wound in Neck.

The death of the Hon. Mrs. Henry Guest, the wife of Colonel Guest, M.P. for Penbroke and Haverford West (brother of Lord Wimborne), was the subject of an inquest at Lake House, Poole, last evening.

It was stated that Mrs. Guest had suffered from fits of depression. A doctor was called in and nothing untoward was anticipated, but on Sunday morning her maid found her in bed dead with a revolver held tight in her right hand and two bullet wounds in the neck.

Colonel Guest said that the revolver was his property.

A verdict of Death from hemorrhage caused by a bullet wound, self-inflicted during temporary insanity, was returned.

AUSTRIA'S CONCESSIONS TO THE PEACE STRIKERS

Beginning Made in Democratisation—The Ministry Said to Have Resigned.

GOEBEN STILL BOMBED BY OUR AIRMEN.

Goeben and Breslau Were Mined: Imbros Naval Battle—Foe Attack on Vardar Front at Salonika.

Austria and Peace Strikers.—The 1,200,000 peace strikers have forced the Austrian Government to grant concessions. The Premier, Dr. Seidler, said the Government wanted no territorial gains at Russia's expense, and would do everything to bring about a general peace. They would also democratise municipal suffrage, introduce women's suffrage and abolish the "militarisation" of war industries and substitute civil for military tribunals. According to one message, the Austrian Cabinet has resigned.

Dardanelles Battle.—The Goeben is still being bombed. The Goeben and cruiser attacked our monitors north of Imbros, and the Breslau was mined. The Goeben also struck a mine.

Goeben and Breslau Attacked Our Monitors by Imbros.

HUN CRUISERS MINED.

ADMIRALTY OFFICIAL.

The Secretary of the Admiralty announces, in continuation of the announcement of January 20, that the following particulars have been received:—

"The Goeben and Breslau emerged from the Dardanelles early on the morning of the 20th and attacked our naval forces to the north of Imbros, with the result that the Raglan and M28 were heavily hit and sunk by gunfire.

"The enemy ships then proceeded to the south of Imbros, where the Breslau was forced into one of our minefields, struck a mine and sank.

"Turkish destroyers coming to the assistance of the Breslau were engaged by our destroyers and driven off.

"As the Goeben neared the entrance to the Dardanelles she also struck a mine, which reduced her speed and caused her to settle down aft, with a list of 15deg.

"She finally beached herself on the west side of Nagara Point, where she is now being continuously bombed by our aircraft.

"We rescued 172 survivors of the Breslau, and they are now prisoners of war in our hands.

"The names of the survivors of the Raglan and M28 are not yet known, but there are 132 survivors, at present reported, out of a total of about 310."

VISCOUNT BROOME SAVED.

Viscount Broome, R.N., commanding H.M.S. Raglan, is among those saved. He was uninjured. He is a nephew of the late Earl Kitchener.

"MORE YPRES SHELLING."

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

Monday Afternoon's communiqué spoke of increased artillery fire on the Ypres front, from Lens to Epheyl, isolated sectors in Champagne and on both sides of the Meuse.

British attacks were, it is claimed, repulsed south of Vendhuile.

The Germans claimed successes in reconnoitring thrusts near Rheims and in the Argonne.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

General Headquarters, Monday.
10.2 A.M.—The night passed quietly on our front. We captured a few prisoners in patrol encounters.

9.42 P.M.—The enemy's artillery has been active during the day west of Lens.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

Monday Night.—In the Argonne, a raid into the enemy's line at Four de Paris enabled us to bring back fifteen prisoners.

Both artilleries have been active on the right bank of the Meuse, and in Alsace, in the region of the Dudel and of Hartmannswillerkopf.

During Sunday three German aeroplanes were brought down, and four enemy machines fell in their own lines.

ITALIAN OFFICIAL.

Artillery activity was more marked between the Brenta and the Piave, where the enemy bombarded the positions south of Col Caprile. Italian guns shelled the foe's lines.

The roaring of guns was heard very plainly on Saturday at Flushing and other places on the Dutch coast coming from the direction of Zebrugge, says a Central News Amsterdam telegram.

FIRST SEPARATE PEACE MADE WITH GERMANY.

The Ukraine Agrees to Reciprocal Withdrawing of Troops.

AMSTERDAM, Monday.—A German telegram from Brest-Litovsk states that the negotiations which have been in progress between the delegations of the Central Powers and those of the Ukrainian Peoples Republic have resulted in an agreement on the principles of a treaty of peace. The resolution of both parties to live henceforth in peace is to be ratified.

The troops of both parties are to be withdrawn at the conclusion of peace.

The telegram proceeds to say that the determination of the main lines of the negotiations has reached a point at which the delegations are obliged to get into touch with the "responsible quarters at home."

All the delegations agree that the necessary adjournment of the negotiations shall be as brief as possible.

The telegram concludes: "For the first time in this world-shaking war the realisation of the principles for the re-establishment of peace have been successfully accomplished."—Reuter.

CENTRAL POWERS' THREAT.
COPENHAGEN, Monday.—A message from Berlin states that the Lokalsamfund declares that when the Russian troops in Brest-Litovsk on the 22nd inst. he will have to state definitely whether he accepts or rejects the Central Powers' demands.

If it is more important to him to let the revolution spread in the occupied districts and beyond than to terminate the war, the Central Powers will immediately break off negotiations.—Exchange.

SUPPRESSED ASSEMBLY.
M. Lenin has stated that the Constituent Assembly will not be permitted to reassemble anywhere.

The decree has been issued dissolving the Constituent Assembly, and an Exchange Petrograd message states that Lenin himself introduced the Bolshevik decree in a ninety minutes' speech.

He considered that resolute action was the only means now left to the Russian people; otherwise they were doomed. He was not afraid of civil war, as he recognised the impossibility of passing into a Socialistic state otherwise than through civil war.

The Bolsheviks have suppressed all the non-Socialistic papers.

EX-MINISTERS MURDERED.
The Petrograd correspondent of the Association Press says that two former Constitutional Democrat members of the Kerensky Cabinet—M.M. Shingareff and Kokoshkin—were murdered in their beds in hospital on Sunday night.

M. Kokoshkin was shot while asleep and M. Shingareff, who was awake and protested to the twelve armed men, was then shot.—Reuter.

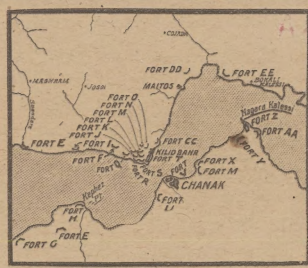

AIR FIGHTS IN PALESTINE.

BRITISH (PALESTINE) OFFICIAL.
In the course of a successful patrol action in the coastal area a few prisoners were taken during January 19.

On January 20 our aeroplanes repeated their raids on the enemy's camps and stores, established near the railway station, two miles west of Sebastieh (Samaria).

An enemy aeroplane was driven down out of control.

One of our machines, compelled to land within the hostile lines, was destroyed by its pilot and observer before capture.

1,200,000 AUSTRIANS ON A "PEACE STRIKE."

Cabinet Resigns in Midst of a General Stoppage.

SERIOUS MOVEMENT.

Significant news comes to hand from Austria, which, as a sequel to a general strike and a popular clamour for food and peace, some 1,200,000 workmen have "downed" tools.

The situation, so far as Austro-Hungary is concerned, is regarded as critical, and the general tendency is to blame Germany for the position of affairs.

All the telegrams from Zurich, says an Exchange message from Paris, dated yesterday, show that Austria finds herself confronted by a popular movement of an extremely serious nature.

The Berliner Morgens (according to a Central News telegram from Amsterdam) learns from Vienna that the Austrian Premier, Dr. von Seidler, has tendered his resignation.

Count von Togenburg, the Minister of the Interior, has been charged with the formation of a new Cabinet.

A Paris message says the motives for the workers' demands are the annexationist intentions of the German negotiators at Brest-Litovsk and the deep impression made by President Wilson's speech.

CRITICAL SITUATION.
AMSTERDAM, Sunday (received yesterday).—All advices from Berlin and Vienna agree that the position of the Austrian Government is critical.

Strikers from the Siemens, Schukert and Friedmann works were parading yesterday in Vienna, and the authorities are urged upon the authorities to ease the flour ration and to make peace.—Central News.

ROME, Sunday (received yesterday).—The Vatican semi-official organ, Corriere d'Italia, editorially declares: "We are faced to face with a true Austrian pronouncement against Ludendorff, Bulow and Hoffmann of German imperialism. It now remains to see what repercussion all this will have in Germany. The thing is of the highest importance."

I learn personally that the Nuncio at Vienna reports to the Pope that Austria-Hungary is in the most critical condition, especially Austria, and Wilson's speech has given a remarkable impulse to the democratic peace parties.

The Kaiser is doing his best to smooth things over, and is using his influence to support Kuhlmann against Bulow, who is the special object of Austrian animadversion.—Exchange.

BIG FOE ATTACKS FAIL AT SALONIKA.

Driven Out of Wrecked Trenches by Gallant Greek Troops.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.
SALONIKA, Sunday.—To-day, towards two o'clock, after a violent artillery preparation, the enemy launched against our positions west of the Vardar (to the north of the Jumania and west of the Sika di Legen) a series of attacks, which were completely smashed.

Only at one point did the enemy succeed in penetrating into our completely wrecked trenches, and he was immediately driven out again by a vigorous counter-attack of Greek troops.

EAST AFRICA ADVANCE.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.
About Primrose Hill (forty-five to fifty miles south-west of Port Amelia) our advanced troops are in contact with an enemy force. In the Mwemba-Matika area our column from Nyasaland has occupied Luwamunda Boma in the angle formed by the confluence of the Luwamunda and Luwenda rivers.

The enemy's withdrawal was hastened by the destruction of his bridges by floods.

AUSTRIAN PREMIER'S PEACE TALK.

Says Dual Monarchy Wants Speedy End to the War.

RUSSIAN "COMPROMISE."

Dr. von Seidler, the Austrian Premier, has made an important speech to a Labour delegation bearing on the question of peace.

Here are his principal points as telegraphed by Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam:—

It is the most earnest wish of his Majesty to end the war as speedily as possible by an honourable peace.

The Government of the Dual Monarchy has done everything in its power, and will in future continue to do everything possible to bring about a general peace as soon as possible.

If for the present only a separate peace with Rome be found possible, the responsibility rests solely on the Entente Powers, who have rejected our repeated peace offers.

Nevertheless, the Government continues to aim at a speedy general peace.

It remains far from its intention to make the attainment of that object more difficult by any aims of conquest.

It adheres to the belief that international agreements regarding disarmament and arbitration courts can form a suitable basis for general peace.

As regards Russia, the Government has repeatedly declared that it aims at no sort of territorial acquisition at Russia's expense.

Peace negotiations cannot be shipwrecked on any such projects.

In respect to Poland, the Government regards Poland as an independent State with independent relations.

The Government agrees to allow the population of Poland to settle its own State system by popular vote on a broad basis, and it has expressed the opinion that this can best be done by a Constituent Assembly.

The Government had, of course, to refuse the Russian Government's demand for the evacuation of the occupied regions.

As view of the continuance of the war on other fronts, and owing to the present unsettled internal conditions in Russia, we cannot evacuate these territories without endangering our military interests.

We are endeavouring to arrive at a compromise with the Russian Government with regard to the question of the continuance of the present occupation.

Negotiations with the Ukrainian Republic have made great progress and give ground for hope of a speedy and satisfactory conclusion.

The Government wish that the people and their representatives shall be enlightened on the course of the present peace negotiations.

They will strive for an equal distribution of foodstuffs.

Negotiations with the Hungarian Government and Austria's allies would, he hoped, not be without success.

NEW AUSTRIAN CHIEF.
Dr. Adler and the labour deputation then attended a meeting of the labour leaders and passed a resolution requesting the workers to resume work, and noting with satisfaction the Government's declaration on the peace question.

The resolution also recorded appreciation of the concessions of the Government.

The supreme command has been entrusted to the hands of General Boroewitch, formerly Commander of the Third Army Corps on the Julian front, says a Reuter special message. This also involves the supersession of Field-Marshal Conrad von Hotzendorff, his senior, who was chiefly responsible for the plan of campaign against Italy.

AMSTERDAM, Monday.—Von Kuehlmann will arrive in Berlin to-night from Brest-Litovsk and to-morrow will receive the Reichstag leaders to report on the Peace Conference. Hertling will speak to-morrow.—Exchange

OUR AIRMEN'S BUSY DAY.

BRITISH AIR OFFICIAL.
On January 22 the good visibility again enabled our aeroplanes to observe the artillery all day and to take many photographs in the enemy's forward area.

Bombs were dropped throughout the day on various targets, while the enemy in the trenches and in the open was engaged with machine-gun fire from the air.

Ultimatum to Trotsky.—Trotsky is to be asked definitely whether he accepts or rejects the Central Powers' demands. If he does not accept them the Central Powers will, it is threatened, break off negotiations.

Bolshevik Terrorism.—The Bolsheviks have ordered the arrest of M. Tchernoff, who was elected President of the Russian Constituent Assembly. Lenin has declared that the Assembly will not be permitted to meet again anywhere.

LATE WAR NEWS.

MORE ABOUT SEA BATTLE OFF DARDANELLES.

Goeben and Breslau Attacked Our Monitors by Imbros.

HUN CRUISERS MINED.

ADMIRALTY OFFICIAL.

The Secretary of the Admiralty announces, in continuation of the announcement of January 20, the following particulars have been received: The Goeben and Breslau emerged from the Dardanelles early on the morning of the 20th and attacked our naval forces to the north of Imbros, with the result that the Raglan and M28 were heavily hit and sunk by gunfire.

"The enemy ships then proceeded to the south of Imbros, where the Breslau was forced into our mines, struck a mine and sank.

"Turkish destroyers coming to the assistance of the Breslau were engaged by our destroyers and driven off."

"As the Goeben neared the entrance to the Dardanelles she also struck a mine, which reduced her speed and caused her to settle down aft, with a list of 15deg."

"She finally beached herself on the west side of Nagara Point, where she is now being continuously bombed by our aircraft."

"We rescued 172 survivors of the Breslau, and they are now prisoners of war in our hands."

"The names of the survivors of the Raglan and M28 are not yet known, but there are 132 survivors, as at present reported, out of a total of about 310."

VISCOUNT BROOME SAVED.

Viscount Broome, R.N., commanding H.M.S. Raglan, is among those saved. He was uninjured. He is a nephew of the late Earl Kitchener

"MORE YPRES SHELLING."

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

North-east and east of Ypres, as well as on the front from Lens to Ephehy, increased artillery activity was maintained.

South of Yendhuille, whilst warding off an English attack, some prisoners were captured.

There was artillery activity on isolated sectors in Champagne and on both sides of the Meuse.

North-west of Rheims and in the Argonne our reconnoitring detachments were successful in minor enterprises.

During the last two days eleven enemy aeroplanes and one captive balloon were brought down—Admiralty per Wireless.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Monday. 10.2 A.M.—The night passed quietly on our front. We captured a few prisoners in patrol encounters.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

Monday Afternoon.—There is nothing to report with the exception of the usual cannonade.

ITALIAN OFFICIAL.

During yesterday artillery activity was more marked between the Brenta and the Piave, where our guns carried out bursts and concentrations of fire against the enemy lines, while hostile fire was directed against our positions to the south of Col Caprice.

To the north-east of Mount Asolone and in the valley of Ponte della Priula attempts on the part of enemy patrols were promptly frustrated.

FIRST SEPARATE PEACE MADE WITH GERMANY.

The Ukraine Agrees to Reciprocal Withdrawing of Troops.

AMSTERDAM, Monday.—A German telegram from Brest-Litovsk states that the negotiations which have been in progress between the delegations of the Central Powers and those of the Ukrainian Peoples Republic have resulted in an agreement on the principles of a treaty of peace.

The state of war is to be declared terminated. The resolution of both parties to live henceforth in peace is to be ratified.

The troops of both parties are to be withdrawn at the conclusion of peace.

The telegram proceeds to say that the determination of the main lines of the negotiations has reached a point at which the delegations are obliged to get into touch with the "responsible quarters at home."

All the delegations agree that the necessary adjustment of the negotiations shall be as brief as possible.

The telegram concludes: "For the first time in this world-shaking war the realisation of the principles for the re-establishment of peace have been successfully accomplished."—Reuter.

SOCIALIST ON MINISTER'S EMPTY TALK ABOUT U.S.

Does Not Believe Tale That Army Cannot Come to Europe.

AMSTERDAM, Monday.—In the course of Saturday's financial debate in the Lower House of the Prussian Diet Herr Mehring, Independent Socialist, said:—

"If Canada, with less than 9,000,000 inhabitants, has been able to throw 250,000 soldiers, who could neither fly nor swim there, to the European theatre of war, what valid grounds has the Finance Minister for denying to the United States, with its 110,000,000 inhabitants, any military capability?"

"To manifest his contempt only by words is a method which has ever brought heavy penalties in its train, doubly heavy if this contempt be coupled with empty threats."

"It sounds fine when the Minister says 'Peace is on the march,' but if we look round for the actual grounds the matter looks doubtful."

"So far only the Russian revolutionaries have played a world-historical rôle in the Brest negotiations, showing an honest frankness in diplomatic questions."

ROBBERS' DENIS.

"The Finance Minister tried to excuse the damage done to the people's morals through the war by pointing to the brilliant victories of our army."

The moral deterioration of a people's body by deceit, theft and swindle can never be glossed over by martial glory. Big State institutions like the Post Office have become robbers' dens."

"Such an excellent publication as Prince Liebowsky's pamphlet, which clearly proves where the guilty originators of this world-war are to be found, are not permitted to reach the public." The speaker concluded: "I warn you, do not drive it to extremes."

Herr Mehring, the Finance Minister, said he could not, of course, prove his statement concerning the United States Army, but he was firmly convinced that that Army would not come.—Reuter.

CENTRAL POWERS' THREAT TO BREAK WITH TROTSKY.

Russians Want Referendum of Hun-Occupied Territories.

COPENHAGEN, Monday.—A message from Berlin states that the Lokalanzeiger declares that when M. Trotsky returns to Brest-Litovsk on the 29th inst. he will have to state definitely whether he accepts or rejects the Central Powers' demands.

If it is more important to him to let the revolution spread in the occupied districts and beyond than to terminate the war, the Central Powers will immediately break off negotiations.

AMSTERDAM, Monday.—The deliberations of the Commission for the regulation of political and territorial questions, which were interrupted for two days owing to Count Czernin's indisposition, were continued at Brest-Litovsk on Friday.

The Commission then discussed the future state formation of the occupied territories which were granted the right of self-determination by Russia.

The German delegation held that a referendum would not correspond to the state of development of the population of these territories.

In reply to this suggestion Trotsky remarked that the Russian delegation adhered to its proposal that only a referendum should decide the future state formation of these countries.—Reuter.

SOVIET'S DECREE.

PETROGRAD, Sunday (received yesterday).—The Tauride Palace was deserted yesterday. A notice was posted on the doors stating that by order of the Commissioner for the Tauride Palace no one would be admitted. The officer in charge stated that the Congress of Soviets would meet in the Palace.

M. Lenin informed a deputation of a Provincial Soviet that the Constituent Assembly would not be permitted to reassemble anywhere.

Instead of the Constituent Assembly there would be a national convention to be formed by the forthcoming Congress of Soviets.—Reuter.

Rumours are current that the Bolsheviks have decided to arrest Tchernoff (who was elected President of the Assembly), and Savinkoff, who is believed to be in Petrograd at present, is being hunted for by the Red Guards.

"CIVIL WAR THE ONLY WAY."

The decree has now been issued dissolving the Constituent Assembly, and an Exchange Petrograd message states that Lenin himself introduced the Bolshevik decree in a ninety minutes' speech.

He considered that resolute action was the only means now left to the Russian people; otherwise they were doomed. He was not afraid of civil war, as he recognised the impossibility of passing into a Socialist state otherwise than through civil war.

The Bolsheviks have suppressed all the non-Socialist papers, and, besides the Red Guards, are hunting out newsmen and confiscating all editions of papers containing reports of the first meeting of the Constituent Assembly.

Asked by Mr. King in the House of Commons yesterday, whether Russia was still an Allied State for the purposes of the war, Mr. Balfour (Foreign Secretary) replied: So far as Treaties can make her, she is.

CAMBRAI IN THE HOUSE.

Mr. Bonar Law stated, in the House of Commons yesterday, that General Smuts, at their request, went through the Cambrai documents.

His report was approved by the War Cabinet, and was not subject to revision by Lord Derby or any member of the Army Council.

The Cabinet was personally responsible for the withholding of the report.

Mr. George Lambert asked whether the right hon. gentleman was aware of the public dissatisfaction at the withholding of the report.

Mr. Hogge: Will he take steps to prevent people being told the circumstances by soldiers returning from the front?

Mr. Bonar Law: "If the rumours are the same that have reached me, they are entirely unfounded." (Cheers.)

AUSTRIANS CLAMOUR FOR PEACE.

Cabinet Resigns in Midst of General Striki.

1,200,000 WORKERS OUT.

Significant news comes to hand from Austria, where, as a sequel to a general strike and a popular clamour for food and peace, some 1,200,000 workmen have "downed" tools.

The situation, so far as Austria-Hungary is concerned, is regarded as critical, and the general tendency is to blame Germany for the position of affairs.

All the telegrams from Zurich, says an Exchange message from Paris, dated yesterday, show that Austria finds herself confronted by a popular movement of an extremely serious nature.

"We knew long since," says the Matin, "that the economic situation in the Dual Monarchy was grave."

The Berliner Morgens (according to a Central News telegram from Amsterdam) learns from Vienna that the Austrian Premier, Dr. von Seidler, has tendered his resignation.

Count von Togggenburg, the Minister of the Interior, has been charged with the formation of a new Cabinet.

Von Seidler's Cabinet came into power last June.

FROM FOOD TO PEACE.

PARIS, Monday.—"Political motives have now arisen to give precise shape to the demands of the workers, and have changed the agitation over the food question into one unmistakably in favour of peace."

"The first of these motives is the attitude of the German negotiators at Brest-Litovsk. Austria-Hungary looked for a speedy conclusion of peace with Petrograd. The German diplomats and the German generals have delayed this by their exigencies, while at the same time they were driven to disclose their annexationist intentions."

"The second of these grounds is the deep impression produced by the speeches of Mr. Lloyd George and President Wilson. They have been considered by the independent Austrian papers, more even than by the trade unions, as setting forth a really democratic peace."

"The people have compared the Ludendorff attitude with that of the Liberal leaders of the west."

War-weary, they have understood which side seeks unreasonably to prolong the struggle."

A telegram from Zurich states that there are 1,200,000 persons on strike in Austria.—Exchange.

CRITICAL SITUATION.

AMSTERDAM, Sunday (received yesterday).—All advice from Berlin and Vienna agree that the position of the Austrian Government is critical.

The general strike movement has gone so far that it is difficult to see how it can be adequately dealt with.

Strikers from the Siemens, Schukert and Friedmann works were parading yesterday in ever-increasing numbers, calling upon the authorities to raise the flour ration and to make peace.

The papers reflect the situation, and never before have they been so outspoken in their criticism.

It is evident that the accounts of Count Czernin and von Kuhlmann about the satisfactory course of the peace negotiations are not accepted by Labour.

The blame for the halting state of the negotiations is ascribed almost entirely to the uncompromising attitude of the German negotiators, particularly the military.

The plain speaking of the Fremdenblatt of Vienna has brought forth other protests from the German Press, particularly the Deutsche Tageszeitung, which says the allegations are "outrageous and full of falsehoods."—Central News.

Streets Closed to Public.—ZURICH, Sunday (received yesterday).—A telegram from Budapest states that a general strike began there on Friday morning, when the entire tramway, underground and railway service stopped.

Great demonstrations are reported to have taken place at Cracow in protest against the shortage of food. All the shops are closed, and the public have been forbidden to go into the streets after six in the evening.—Reuter.

BELGIAN COAST SHELLED.

Following the statement in the German official report that "Ostend has been bombarded from the sea," the Central News Amsterdam correspondent wires:—

The roaring of guns was heard very plainly on Saturday at Flushing and other places on the Dutch coast coming from the direction of Zebrugge.

Not for a very long time has the sound been so violent.

HOW LONDON ENCOURAGES BERLIN.

THE war is only changing our national food habits very slowly, and under pressure, and to the accompaniment of a loud chorus of complaints from the people accustomed to a certain immutable menu composed mainly of meat.

This chorus of complaint is reaching Germany, to form one of the few remaining sources of satisfaction there, in these hungry months.

We are a people naturally given to "grousing." The Germans are infinitely patient. Reading all other races by themselves, they naturally conclude, then, when they read of our Food Queues, our "fights for offal," our struggling and fainting women battling for beef that we are in a very bad way indeed. We might well draw the same conclusion were similar reports to reach us regarding them—were we daily to be fed on coloured accounts of processions several miles long in Berlin, protesting crowds surging ceaselessly in Dresden, Sunday joint riots all over Germany. "Wait a little," we might say, "they are nearly done!" And the war would continue on a false supposition—the chimera of a German food-collapse.

Well, these are just the reports they now get of us.

What they will not understand—perhaps it is as well that they should not—is that we have no resources in cooking, in utilisation of food; no inventiveness in the search for substitutes; no capacity for the readjustment of diet. If we cannot get the Sunday joint, we have the week-end wail. We do not envisage any other possibility. And if we see other people queue-waiting that excites us even more. "Our joint! our joint! Give us our Sunday joint! We must have everything as usual."

It is high time the Food Controllers, if they cannot entirely regularise the food situation, at least explained it more thoroughly to the people and appealed to them for patience.

Not that there is not occasional hardship or grave local inconvenience. Prices are indeed very high. Certain districts often find themselves very ill-supplied. But when we compare this inconvenience or hardship with the misery endured in Russia, say, in Germany, and in the conquered countries (not to speak of Italy and France) we shall surely be amazed to think that, so far, we have extracted our daily needs out of the turmoil of the world-catastrophe with such success.

It is indeed a universal world-shortage; that can never be too often repeated. Even with perfect distribution, the complete suppression of all human selfishness and profiteering, and even if the U-boat campaign ceased to-morrow, the food problem would be a grave one, as it was even before the war.

The present difficulties, in that sense, have indeed one advantage—at last, it may be, they are silencing the clamour of the high birth rate maniacs and drawing the attention of the community to the vital relationship between numbers and the food supply of the world. Let us think this problem over in preparation for peace, and meanwhile try not to encourage Berlin by grumbling over the queues in London.

IN MY GARDEN.

JAN. 21.—The amateur gardener should make a point of growing plenty of Jerusalem artichokes this year, for they will do well in almost any soil and situation. It is, however, advisable thoroughly to prepare the ground before planting by deep digging. The tubers should be planted early in February, for they require a long period for growth. The white-skinned variety should be used. Give each set plenty of room to develop, and place the planks at the north end of the garden—otherwise the foliage may shade other vegetables.

America's Great Gift for the Babies—The 29th Division Show.

THE NEWS of the "strafing" of those famous German ships, the Goeben and Breslau, made everybody very cheerful yesterday. I heard it discussed everywhere I went. "The Navy's all right, and is always on the job," one man at the club said to me. Another said: "What with the sunshine to-day and the first inspiring news we've ever had from the

TO-DAY'S GOSSIP

"F. E.'s" HIT.—A New York harrister friend writes that Sir F. E. Smith has made a great popular success in the United States, drawing large crowds wherever he spoke. "Everybody here swears by Smith," he writes. "He is some orator, believe me, and the American Bar would like to adopt him."

A Burns Gathering.—Mr. William Will, president of the Robert Burns Club, tells me that the club is going to celebrate the birthday of the poet this year by entertaining representatives of the Allies at the Criterion on the 25th. Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, Lord Glenconner and others will be there.

Generous Gift.—The Duchess of Marlborough yesterday was rejoicing in a handsome present of £4,000 to establish eight mother-and-child welfare centres in Great Britain.

From the States.—This tidy sum was obtained through Major Endicott, who is

A Romance.—Here is Miss Theresa Rion Abell, who has just become engaged to Captain C. B. Trewhella. Last June she was playing at the Empire, but her theatrical career was cut short by a serious illness. About the same time Captain Trewhella was seriously wounded at Messines, and the romance developed during a period of convalescence in Cornwall. Miss Abell is the only daughter of a well-known woman journalist.

Miss Abell.

From Out of Hell.—I hear that among some war prisoners arrived at The Hague is that popular young Hussar, Mr. Guy Horne. He is the son of the member for Guildford. The war was not very old when Mr. Horne was captured, being surrounded by Uhlans when out scouting.

A Royal Jeweller.—Princess Louise of Schleswig-Holstein, who is an adept at goldsmiths' work and enamelling, has, I hear, made with her own hands scores of exquisite articles of jewellery which have sold for big prices at war charity bazaars.

A Happy Show.—I saw Lord Derby thoroughly happy yesterday. The occasion was the pierrot show of the 29th Division at the Court Theatre, with the same scenery and effects as they use at the front. He also bought the "Song of the 29th Division."

All Ages.—Miss Ellen Terry and a small boy in the front row rocked with laughter over the troupe's trick cyclist. The Lord Mayor, I fancy, would give the palm to the "soprano," a slim youth in a fine make-up.

At the Piano.—I was sorry to hear of the death of Cooper Mitchell, one of the most genuinely humorous of the "entertainers at the piano." I last saw him making some wounded shout with laughter with his imitation of a parson preaching on "Sister Susie."

National Abbey.—Scotsmen I met yesterday were exulting in Lord Glenconner's gift of Dryburgh Abbey to the nation. The stately ruin is more interesting to literary men as the burial-place of Sir Walter Scott.

People Nobody Loves.—Here they are:—Germans, Profiteers, Food Hogs, Pacifists, "Conchys," Passive Resistors, Rumour-Mongers, Pessimists, "Man Who Knows," "I told you so"—ers.

First City.—Glasgow has long called itself the second city of the Empire. Since establishing its magnificent tank bank record it might agitate for becoming the capital, an envious Londoner suggests to me.

A Shaw Success.—Miss Lillah McCarthy's new piece at the Coliseum, "Annajanska," proved to be full of witty lines. It was announced as by "Gregory Bissopoff." But there was a distinct flavour of G. B. Shaw about some of the epigrams.

The New Verb.—"I have got some margarine," I heard a woman say the other day, "but, of course, I had to 'queue' for it."

Finding Talent.—Benrimo (he does not like to be called "Mr.") tells me that he is having some luck with his weekly auditions at the Gaiety. He has already discovered a girl of thirteen, with a remarkable voice, from Glasgow, and a promising low comedian from Blonau-festning. These treasures, however, are few and far between.

Benrimo.

Trials.—There are, of course, some amusing incidents connected with these voice trials. An aspirant from Mayfair declared that she did not really care for stage work, but as her husband was away in France she wanted to do something to pass the time. She also made it a stipulation that her sister be engaged.

THE RAMBLER.

LESS FUSS ABOUT FOOD SHORTAGE!

Dardanelles, I feel like giving three cheers all by myself."

Viscount Broome's Escape.—Everybody, too, was interested to learn that Viscount Broome, Lord Kitchener's nephew, had escaped. An old Navy man said to me: "We always liked Broome. Nobody envied the chaps who served on the monitors. They're not precisely 'cushy' ships; but they have always given a good account of themselves."

From an African Prison.—Rambling in the West End the other morning I met Mr. J. Scott Brown—the sole survivor of the Cape and Cairo Motor Expedition—who recently reached London after being a prisoner in German East Africa for over two years. He says that there is no place like home.

Retiring.—I met a friend of Mr. Lewis Sydney yesterday, who told me that the famous "Folly" was leaving the stage to go into business. This is bad news for those who like real humour in revue.

America's Red Cross Commissioner in London. The money will be used under the auspices of the Children's Jewel Fund, over which the Duchess watches.

An Engagement.—Lord Congleton, who is engaged to the Hon. Edith Howard, is in the Navy. He is connected by marriage with a naval peer who has just been wed—Lord Carlisle.

The Bride-To-Be.—The Hon. Edith Howard is Lady Strathcona's younger daughter. Her mother is a peeress in her own right and married the well-known Canadian medical man, Mr. Robert Bliss Howard.

Chaplain Prisoner.—It seems odd to find the name of a chaplain in the official list of prisoners taken by the Germans. The name of the Rev. A. Grant is in to-day's list. But the chaplains have never been lacking in "sand," and are always found at danger points. Good men!
